During the 1977-78 school year Lake Park High School continued to offer its students quality educational opportunities suited to their needs, interests, and abilities. Although this was due in part to the dedication of the school's faculty and staff, much credit also must go to both the community-at-large and the parents for their continued commitment to quality education and their willingness to provide the necessary resources for carrying the concept through to fruition. All of us - teachers, staff, and administration thank you for enabling us to meet our responsibilities to the student body.

To the seniors who are completing their high school careers, congratulations for a job well done and the best of luck and God speed as you approach future endeavors. With your leaving goes a little of us, and I feel confident that Lake Park High School is a better place for having known you. May this year's LANCE give you many pleasant memories and on occasion cause you to reflect upon your days as a student at Lake Park.

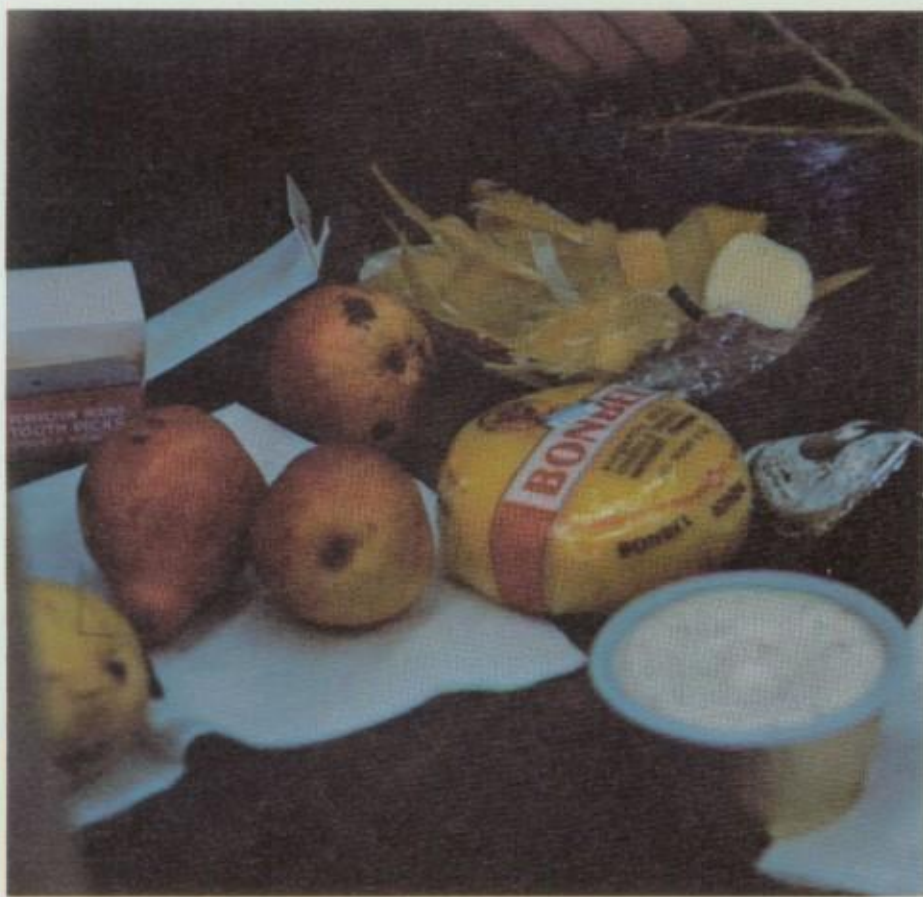

To the many students who will return next year, the new year can represent either a continuation of a highly successful school career or a new beginning - an opportunity to demonstrate to yourself and to others that through commitment and application you will make the most out of the educational opportunities available.

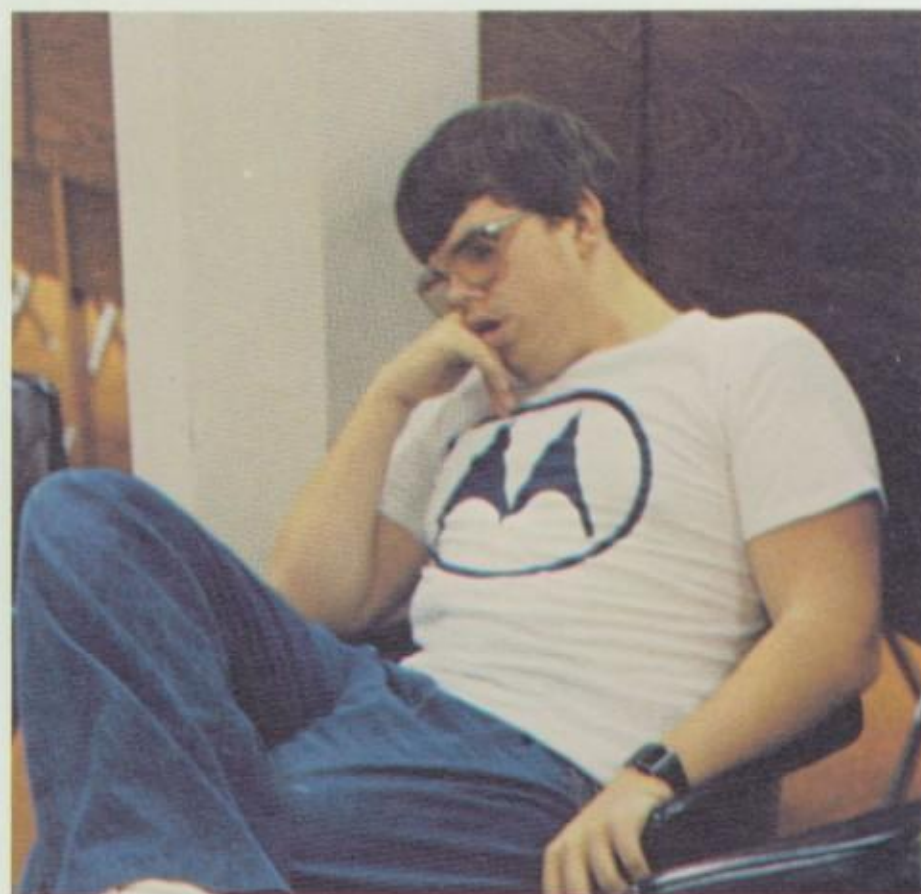

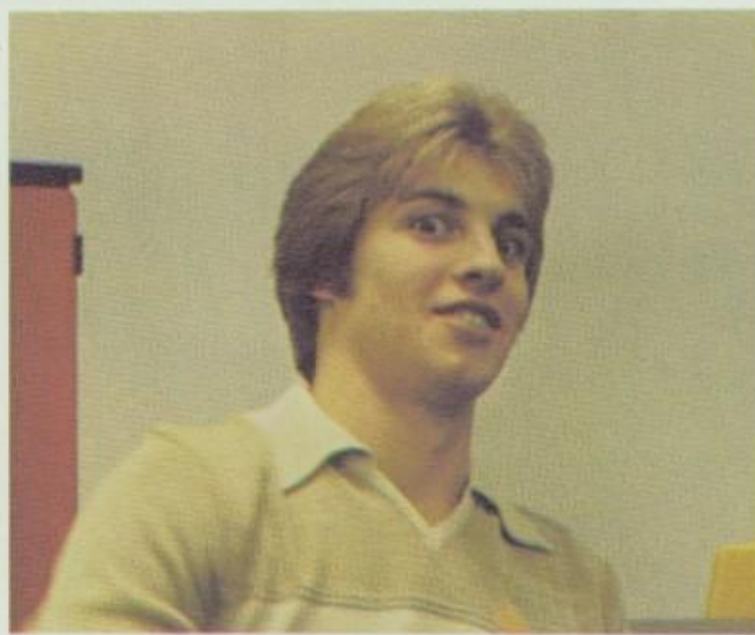

We look forward to your return and pledge our efforts toward making the next school year the very finest one of all.

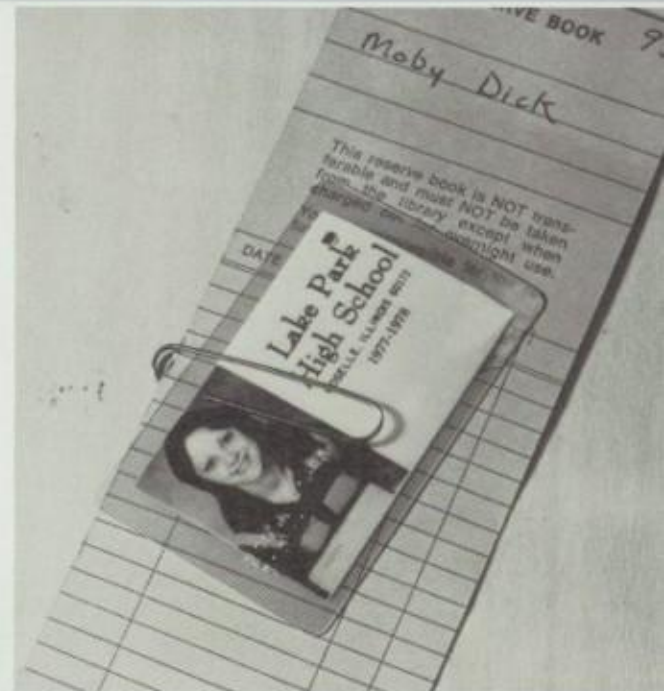

Sincerely yours,

G. Allan Gogo

PEOPLE PLAY

We go along day
by day facing new people and situations. Time and again there are purposes behind all our actions. It's all a game . . . whether be to make people happy or sad, being constructive, destructive, lonely or gregarious. It all has some meaning.

GODSPELL

Jesus (Joe Marshalla) is crucified in the most moving part of the program.

Joe Marshalla mystifies the cast with a charade.

Judas (Dan Rivkin) baptizes the audience into the "Godspell" spirit at the start of the play.

Lyle Chiapetta brings the good news of Jesus to the audience.

The cast performed twelve songs during their production of the acclaimed musical.

The cast exalts the audience.

"Godspell", a rock musical about Jesus Christ, was presented October 27, 28, and 29 as the annual fall musical. The nationally famous production was executed in a spectacular manner with superb acting and believability. It was truly one of the best and most unusual plays ever presented at Lake Park.

Dan Rivkin and Cathy Zoltek sing in the audience.

The cast serves refreshments during the intermission.

John the Baptist (Dan Rivkin) chides the audience for a sinful life by singing "Prepare Ye."

Dan Proctor sings "We Beseech Thee."

presents
the 4th annual
FLOWER SHOW

SPONSORED BY:

COOPERATIVE WORK TRAINING AND HOME ECONOMICS RELATED OCCUPATIONS

Several of the floral creations such as this were donated to children's wards in local hospitals.

Ed Norton and Nancy Zuccaro.

Floral designers used many various materials while working on their projects.

Jeff Runnion and Peggy Jackson.

Robin Hendrickson and Dan Anderson.

Dan Christopher and Renee Yaeger.

CWT & HERO HOST FLOWER SHOW

The Cooperative Work Training and Home Economics Related Occupations programs sponsored their fourth annual flower show. Florists from the area donated their time and materials to assemble floral creations which were then awarded to members of the audience.

Each piece was described to the audience by its creator.

Doug Hinton and Brenda Lies.

Several displays featured unique materials.

The pieces were paraded through the audience for closer examination.

STRANGE COSTUMES BECOME COMMONPLACE

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

Marianne Ryan as Groucho Marx looks as if she is having fun.

To get into the "spirit" of Halloween, the senior class organized a party for both the juniors and seniors to attend. While looking at the pictures you will find it was a big success.

The Marx Brothers (or a local variety of the same) attended as Norm Larsen, Bill Snyder, Louis Muhr, and Jim Dempsey.

Foreign aliens bring in mass quantities of alcoholic beverages and figs to celebrate the festivities.

Chris Murthey gets ready for some fun and games.

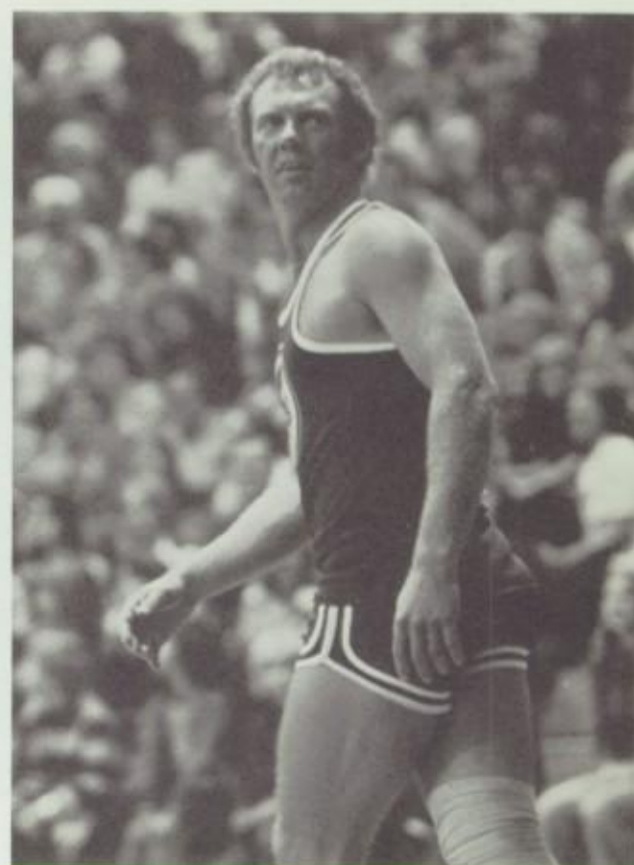

Arab Scott Matthews reads up on late oil embargos.

Tom Stellmach fights off a pack of Cubs while trying to get the ball.

Mr. Patrick storms down the floor as Lake Park takes the offense.

Randy Hundley of the Cubs team appears to be a mean competitor.

The Cubs Cheerleaders turned out to be the highlight of the game.

CUBS GAME A SUCCESS

This year the Student Council sponsored a Cubs versus Faculty basketball game. Along with being a huge success, the game was exciting and fun. A final score of 60 — 60 tied the action-filled game.

Steve Rutenbar congratulates Cubs Cheerleaders Ric Krause, Steve Aevertmann, Rick Zampa, on their fine form.

Ms. Simes got a "lift" from the game.

The cheerleaders performed to "California Girls."

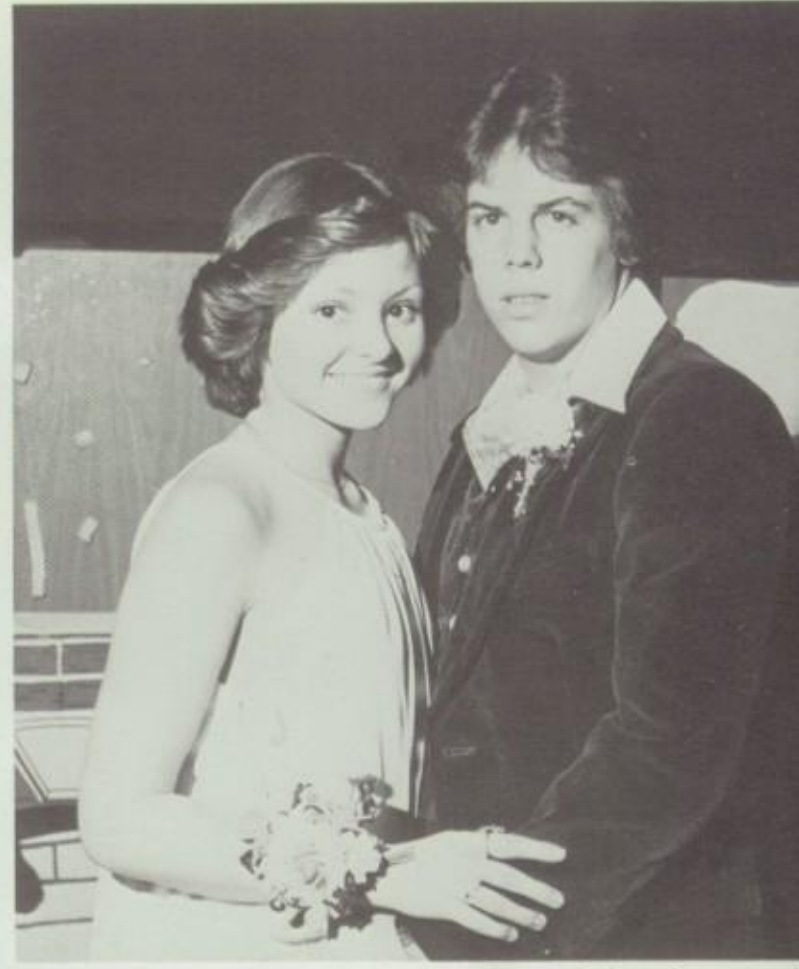

Joe Mikes, Frank Petropoulos and Jerry Mikes were all aspiring Howard Cosell's.

Steve Aevertmann displays the style it takes to be a top cheerleader.

Cathy Hockin and her date Bill Wilton seem lost in the spirit of the dance.

Bob LaMantia, King of the Dance, with his date Lind Miles.

Even Santa got into the act.

WHITE CHRISTMAS

The theme of this year's Christmas Dance was White Christmas. The dance, sponsored by the Junior Class, had a King and Junior Representative which were chosen by the students. The dance was a success with everyone enjoying the evening.

Holly Johnson and her date pick up the tempo of the dance.

Jim Barnes, the Junior Court Representative and his date Donna Kratochvil.

Jo Ann Reitzel pins a boutonniere on her date, Bo Rachlow.

Santa had a busy night greeting everyone . . .

. . . and giving presents to all the good little girls and boys.

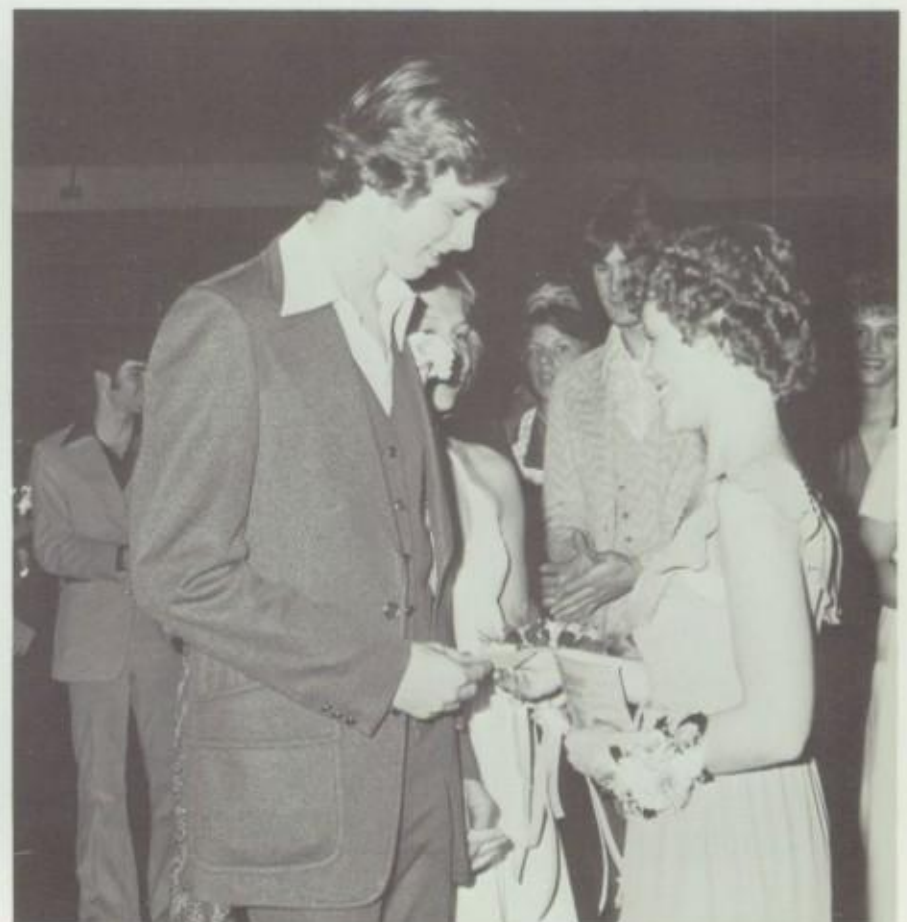

Karen Miller sits on Santa's lap while the other helpers, Carrie Luizzi, Carol Riha, Kim Peterson, and Tina Spearing wait to list their wants.

Karen Rodeo and Frank Mattioli dance the night away.

Santa's helpers were present helping out by serving refreshments to the dancers.

Junior Representative Jim Barnes receives a dinner for two from Trudy Boehme.

Freshmen bell ringers rang out the Christmas spirit.

A reunion of the Alumni for the holidays is an old tradition.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT HERALDS THE SEASON

One the the great traditions at LP is the annual Christmas concert. All of the choral groups presented excellent and moving pieces to a filled auditorium on two nights. Traditional songs such as "The Glory of the Lord" and Hallelujah Chorus" added to the spirit of the season.

"Home for The Holidays" touched the hearts of many.

Frosty (Chris Hender) brought about many smiles from the members of chorus.

anta (Frank Russo) sent laughter through the auditorium as he "Ho Hoed" his way to the stage.

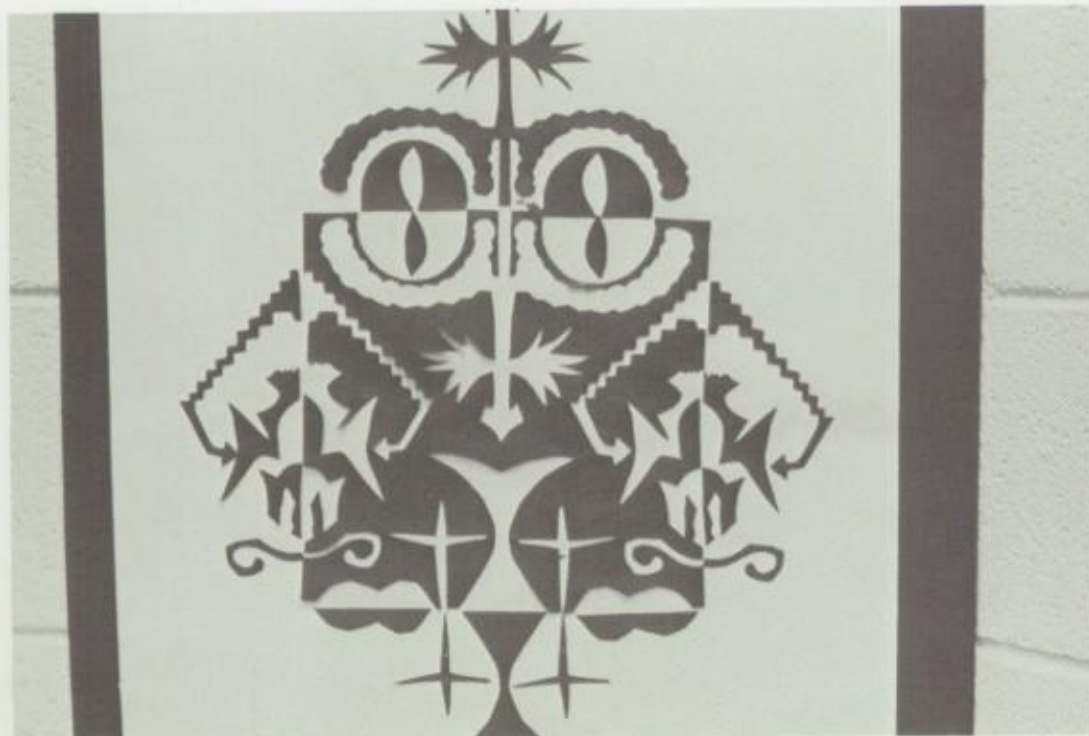

Jay Williams and Kim Lueck performed their duet well.

One point stressed in Chorus is, "all eyes on Mr. Ortscheid."

STUDENT ARTISTS HAVE WORK EXHIBITED

Junior Mike Porter's cut paper design resembles many an LP student on Monday mornings.

Mrs. Kutner and Becky Haefner explore the exhibit at West Campus.

Just before Christmas vacation the Fine Arts Department sponsored the annual Winter Art Exhibit at both campuses. In addition to featuring student work in ceramics, photography, painting, drawing and jewelry, several guest artists from outside the school gave demonstrations during the day.

Junior Mary Bobik captured a lion well in this pencil sketch.

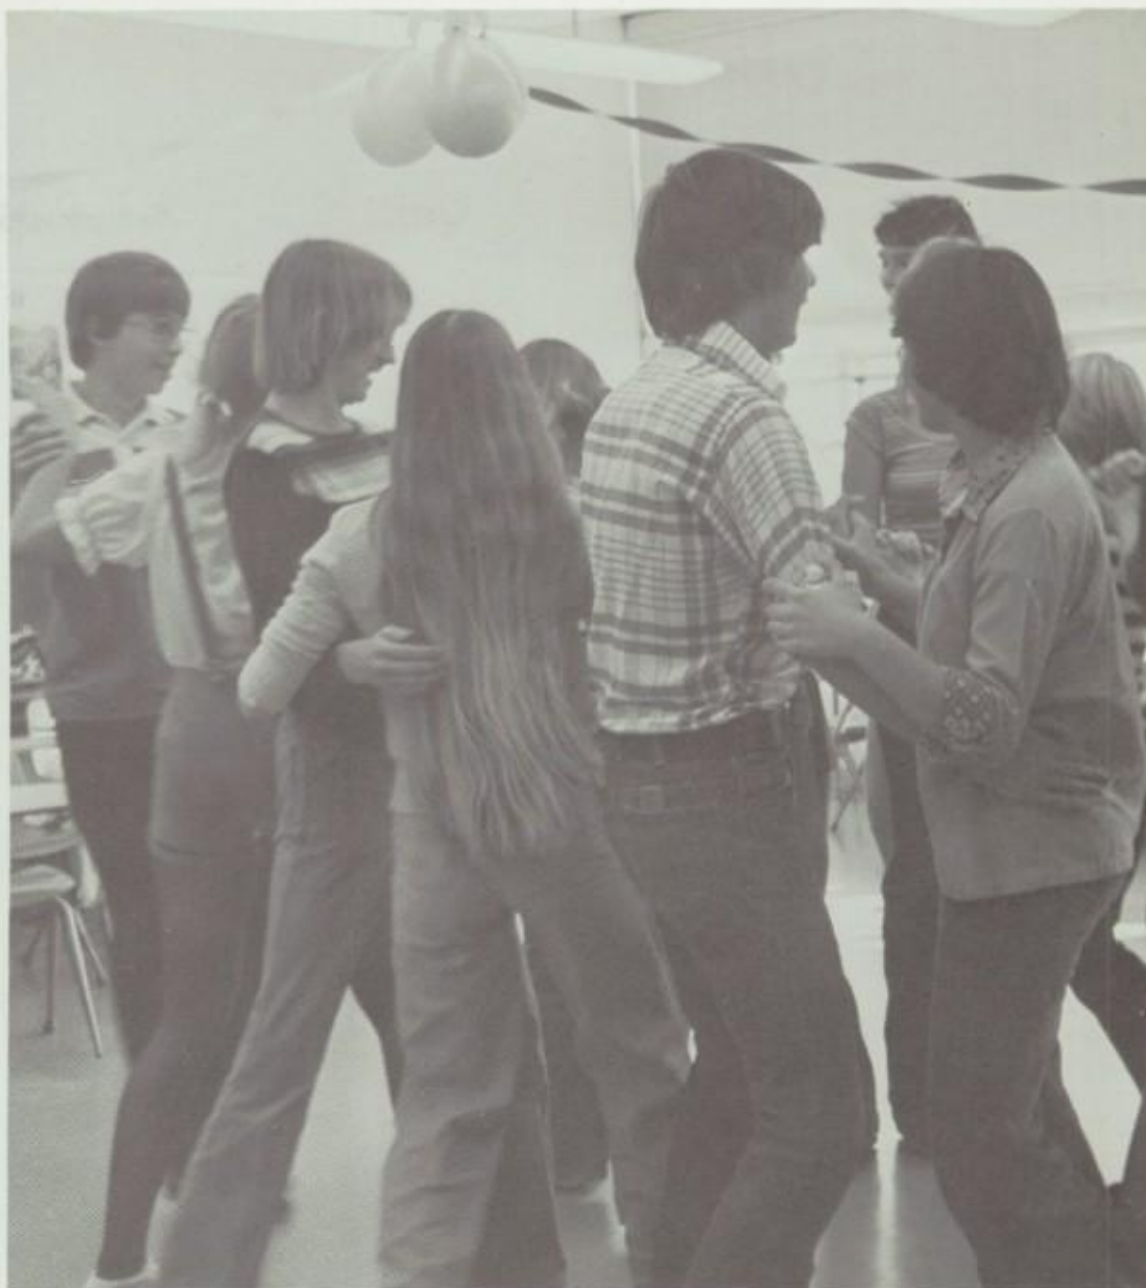

Guest artist Laura Ross (a graduate of LP) created several paintings of students during the exhibit.

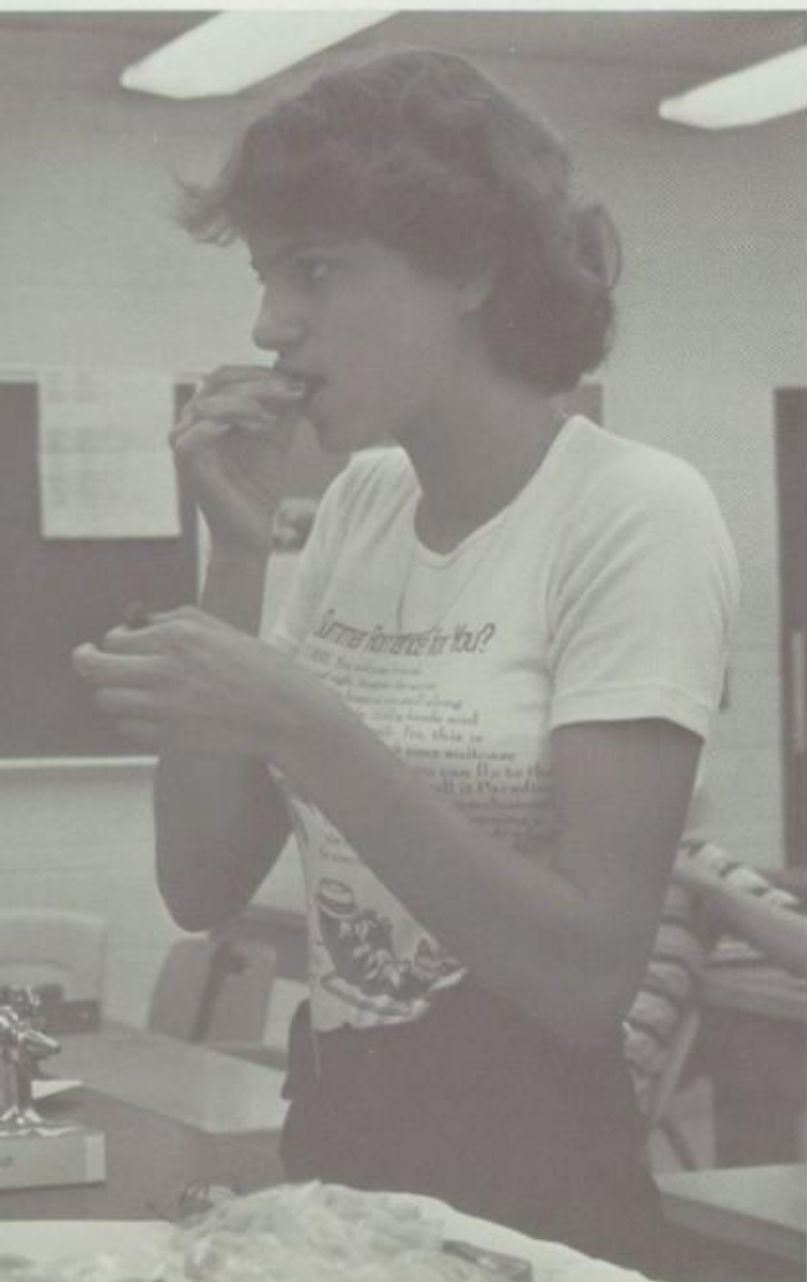

Pen and ink are sophomore Karen Conforti's tools in creating this work.

Ms. Dunsmoor instructs the class on how to make crepes.

Some students from Mr. Denny's class do a German folk dance.

Julie Cuttone samples some French food in Ms. Aguirres' class.

Orazio Bartolomeo prepares to sample the finished product.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLASSES HAVE A SPECIAL WEEK

During the week of October 11 — 14 all students in Foreign Language classes sampled native foods, had field trips and played games of foreign countries. Special guests in the classes, including Dr. Gogo, shared their personal experiences with the students.

PARENT'S NIGHT AT EAST

Over three hundred parents of freshmen students took advantage of the first Freshman Parent's Night at the East Campus in January. Teachers, counselors and administrators were there for two nights to communicate with parents about LP and the programs their children were enrolled in.

Mr. Weninger explains his English program to a group of parents.

Mr. Wheeler talks with some parents in the halls as they tour the East Campus.

Ms. Feuling shows Mr. and Mrs. Emerson the program used in her classes which deal with reading abilities and improvement.

Mrs. Lovelace spoke to parents about the Group Guidance program which serves as an information source for students.

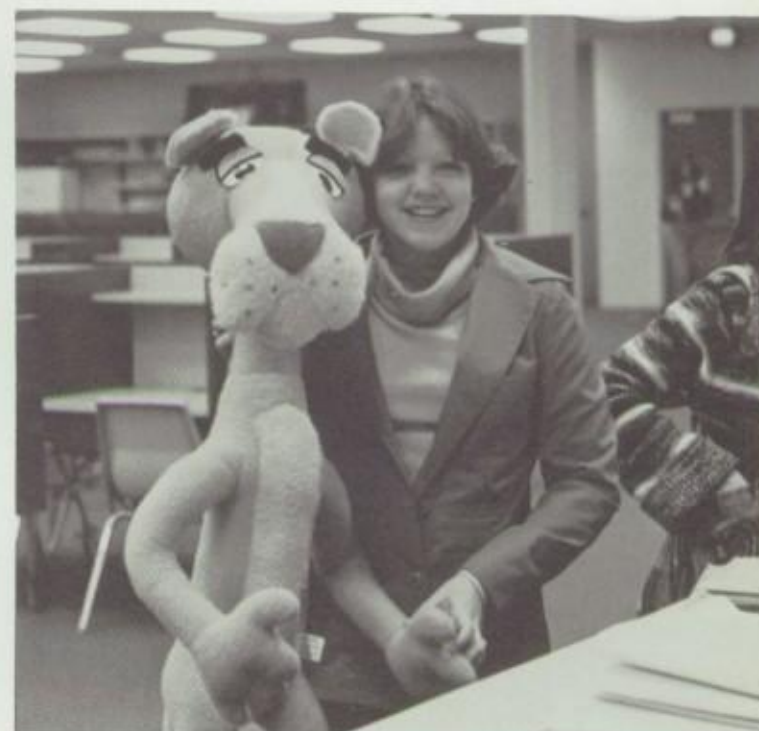

Dr. Heinsen speaks to parents on the grading system and credits.

Mrs. Garcia felt the need for protection while patrolling the R.C.

Senior Carolyn Smith really got into "Crazy Hat" Day.

Junior Carri Luizi and friend.

Hat day went over big at east campus.

Even stuffed animals needed a break in commons.

FENTON GAME BRINGS OUT SPIRIT

For a week in late February, Lake Park students were seen with crazy T-shirts, crazy hats, stuffed animals, and blue and white. It was the traditional spirit week with the untraditional upsurge in spirit. "Those Were The Days" Week concluded with pep assemblies and a Lancer basketball victory over Fenton.

Paul Svenson and John Katoll added to the spirit.

They came in all shapes and sizes.

Mary Hamm was a "deer" all day.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT IS ALIVE . . . AND WELL

This year Student Council, sponsored by Mr. Harris and Ms. Crisanti, was able to accomplish more than any year before. Under the leadership of Jon Thomas, Student Council sponsored many successful events, including homecoming, a Cubs basketball game, a Christmas party for the children of the Mark Lund Home, and obtaining juke boxes for both campuses. Throughout the year, the councils discussed such topics as commons, class rank, attendance, and spirit. Once again, there were councils at both campuses, having bi-monthly meetings separately and the councils meet together once every six weeks.

FRESHMAN

DEADLINE TIME MEANS OVERTIME . . .

Kirk Pagenkopf is defenseless without his camera.

The Yearbook Staff found itself with more pages to work with this year and still had problems trying to get everything included in the book that we wanted. Just as the January "blahs" hit, we received a citation for excellence from the Eastern Illinois High School Press Association which stirred us again. Despite all of our complaining, however, putting together a book is a challenge — and not bad fun!

The day's work has evidently taken its toll on Mari.

Mari Ryan reacts to Tom Ernsting's temporary indecision.

Mr. Fowler is deeply involved in concentrating on his artwork — of which the cover is an example.

Junior Sharon Otte works to organize the underclass section.

Mr. Thomas goes over some copy with co-editor Jan Ryan.

Sophomore Julie Thomas sorts through the underclass pictures.

Jayne Staten types the seemingly endless list of underclass names.

Joyce Rodeo and Linda Swiontek examine the 1971 edition of the Lance.

Monette Schmidt waits for a count of pictures to see if she will have to retype an entire page of the senior section; fortunately this was a fate not too common this year.

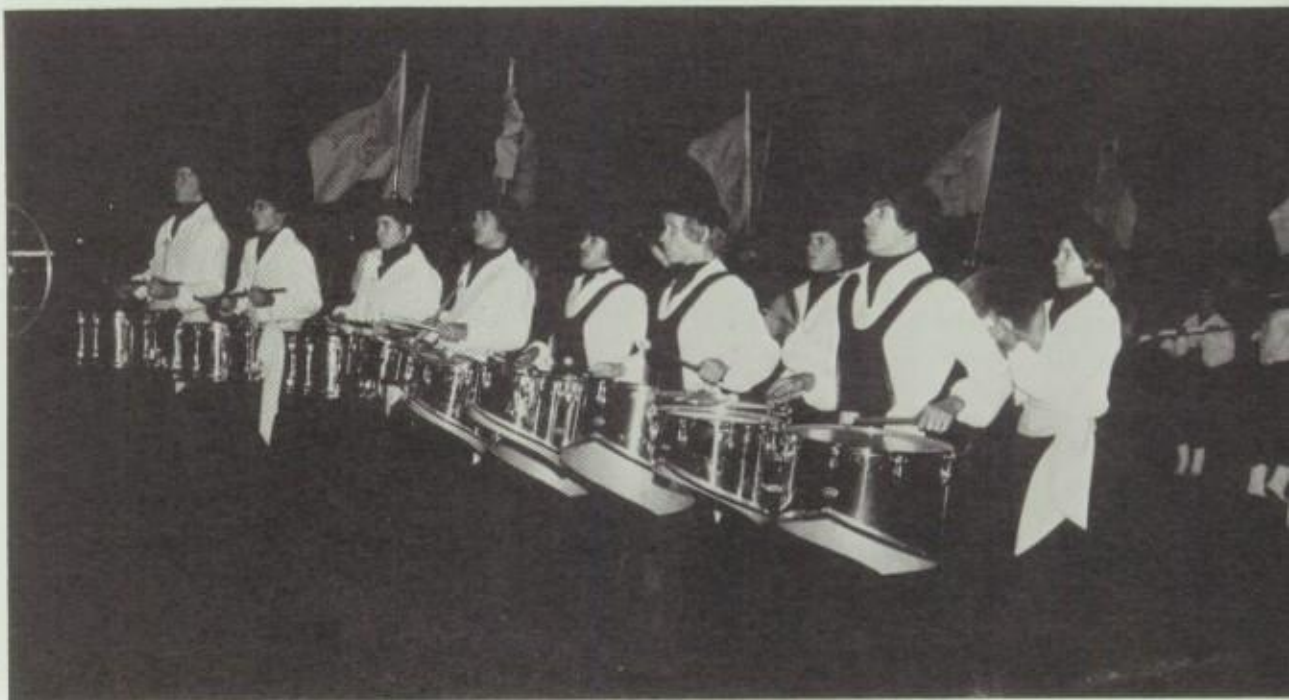

Senior Dan Colella keeps checking to see that "everything is in alphabetical order" — a yearbook staff motto frequently heard.

Junior Nancy Greening looks as if she's wondering how she got into all of this.

The 103-member Lancer Marching Band finished their fall competition by winning the Grand Championship of the Northern Illinois Marching Band contest and capturing first place in the "AA" large school category. During the summer they finished a solid 8th at the national competition at Whitewater, Wisconsin, and also performed during the half-time at a Chicago Bears pre-season game. In October the band won both the parade and concert honors at the Maquoketa, Iowa marching band festival. Band Director Mr. Dean Obrecht and all of the members of the Band should be congratulated on a job WELL DONE!

The percussion section concentrates on form as well as musical perfection.

Thirty-five members make up the Color Guard and Drill Team to accompany the band.

Drum major Jan Neva leads the lavish Lancer band.

ORCHESTRA SOOTHES OUR NERVES

Although relatively small in numbers, the LP students who compose the school orchestra provide many pleasant moments for those who take the time to listen. The countless hours of practice lead to concerts in the spring as well as that elusive self-satisfaction for the members themselves. Pictured here are scenes from the orchestra's mini-concert in the Resource Center at East Campus just before the Christmas vacation.

Mr. Ross Heisse, orchestra conductor, also works with the elementary school music program.

Mark Eremenchuk concentrates on the cello.

DEBATER'S ENJOY "PRO" SEASON

This year the Lake Park debate teams at all levels were highly successful. They placed overall fourth out of 54 teams at the Northern Illinois University Invitational Debate Tournament and were top finishers at the second annual Belvidere High School Tourney. Glenn Wade, Ann Maret and Frank Kreml brought home trophies as top debaters from meets.

Glen Wade does some last-minute memorization before a meet.

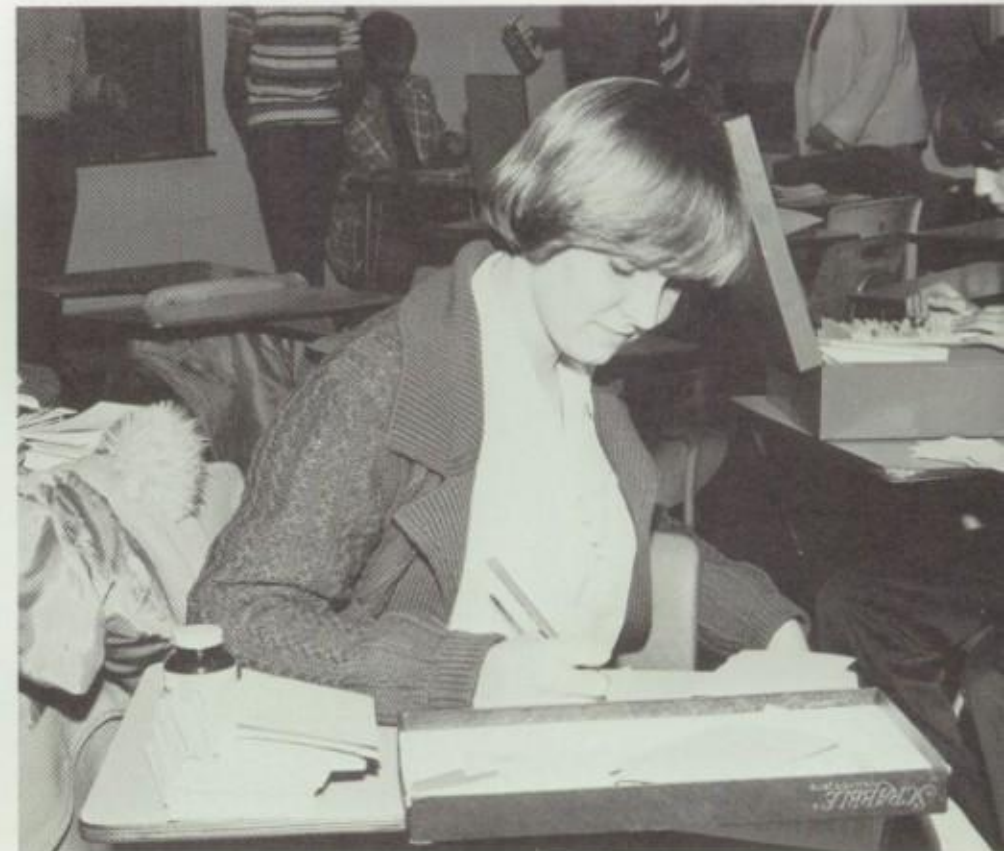

Maureen Madden organizes her thoughts into a file box.

Junior Frank Kreml explains the intricacies of debating to Mr. Licht.

Novice Pam Solecki realizes the importance of an up-to-date evidence fi

SPEECH ACTIVITIES DO WELL IN COMPETITIONS . . .

Speech team member John Katoll rehearses an upcoming speech.

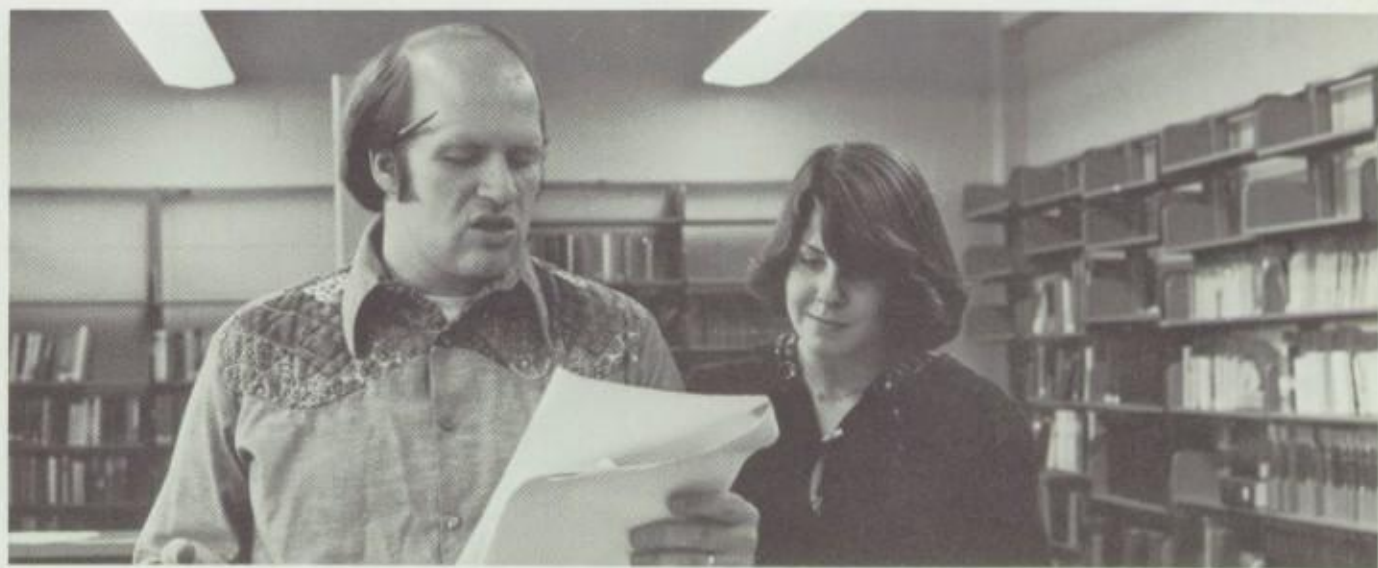

The Speech Team did well in the twelve tournaments in which they participated this year. Junior Melanie Ross was a dominating figure in this years competition, receiving three first-place trophies during the season. Lynn Gorski received a second place award in Oratory in the IHSA District competition qualifying her for the Sectional Tournament. As a team they finished in the top ten at most of their tournaments.

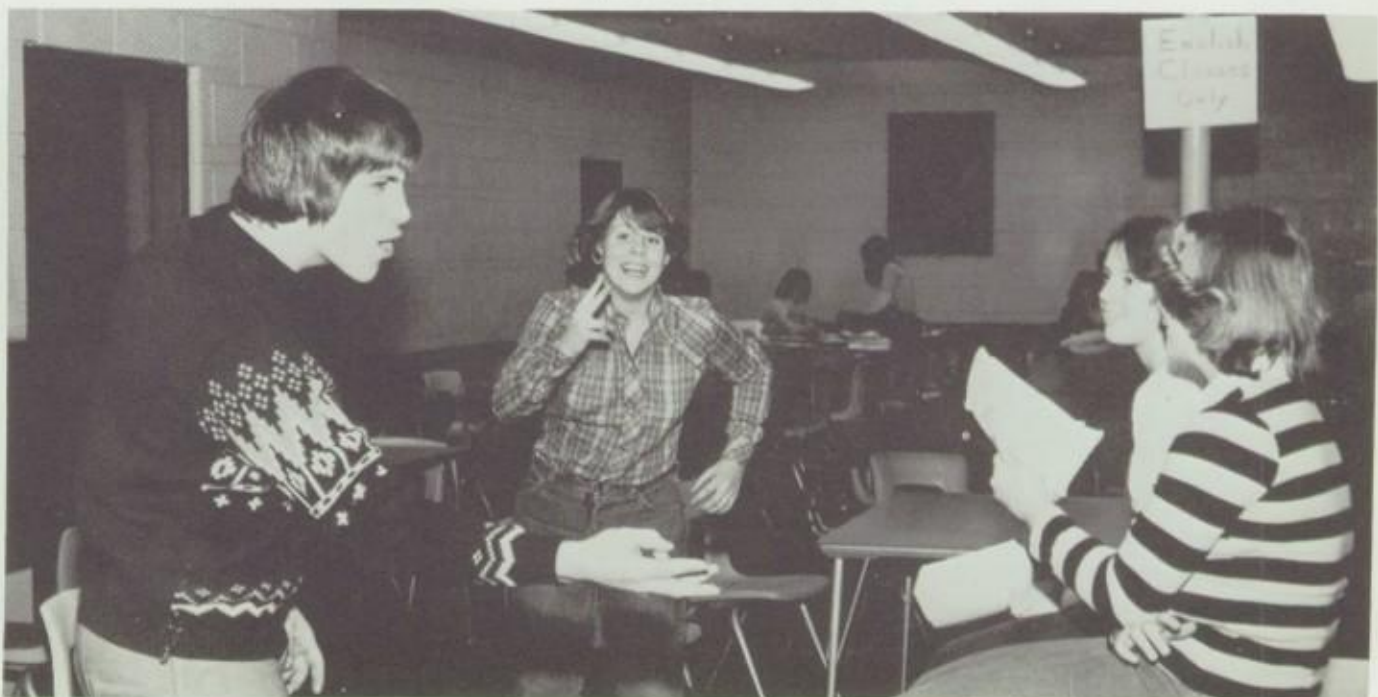

Barb Katoll and Scott Karnuth act out a scene from "A Company of Wayward Saints."

At the Lake Park Holiday Speech Tournament Melanie Ross finished first in Dramatic Interpretation.

Mr. Studt interprets a quote to Jo Reitzel.

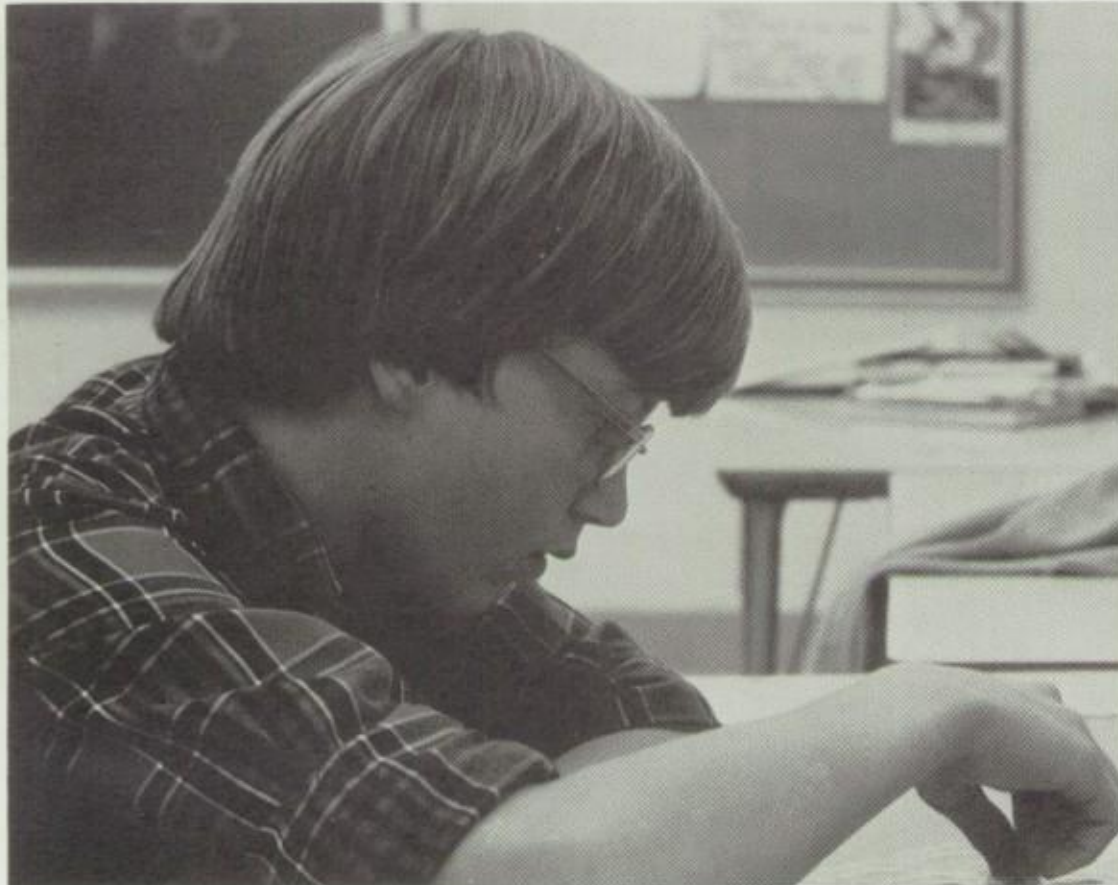

Dan Proctor and Jo Reitzel practice lines from "Plaza Suite."

Sophomore Phil Long studies the background information for an air battle.

Mr. Vincent is not only the sponsor, but a worthy competitor.

Sophomore Al Maass chooses his troop for what he hopes is the best strategy.

Mike Schulz contemplates his move while playing Third Reich.

Actual battles are re-enacted with piece and board by members of the History Game Club. Knowledge of historical events and quick decision-making skills are sharpened during their long meetings with sponsor Mr. Vincent.

HISTORY COMES ALIVE . .

Al and Pete Maier wage war on each other as a means of learning history and at the same time the strategy involved.

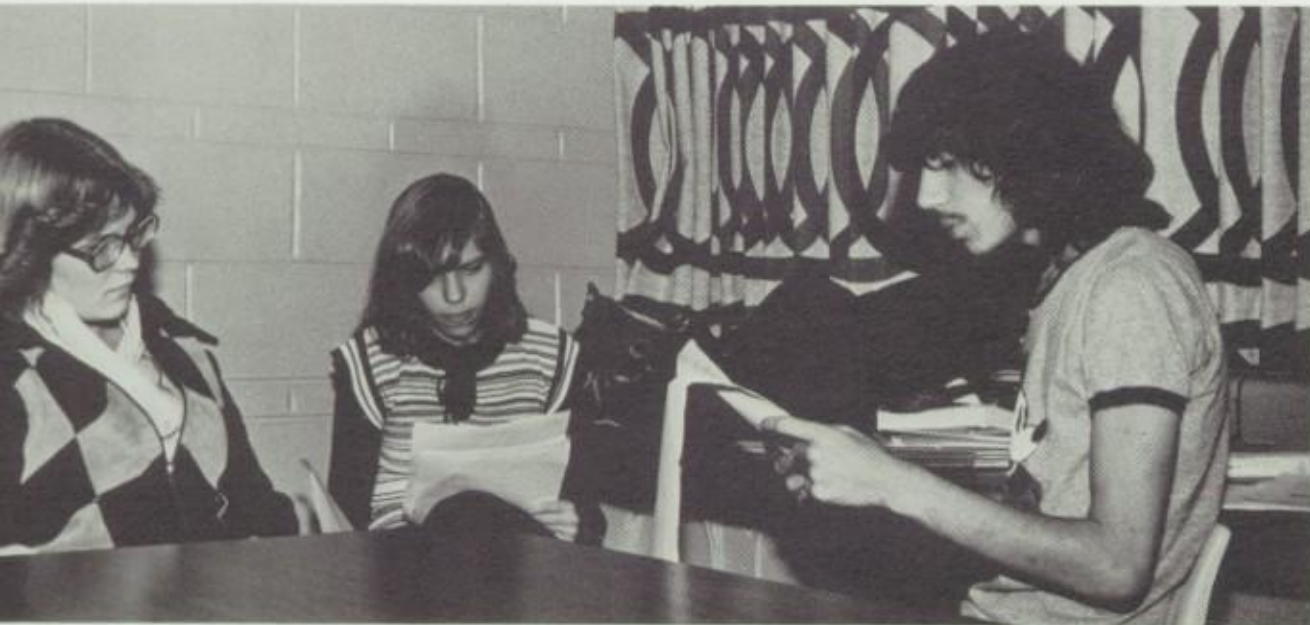

Full of confidence, Sigrid Thomas shows Miss Carr the material she plans to use in her writing.

"AUTHORS ANONYMOUS" NEW TO LAKE PARK

Sally Hawkins and Jill Helfers look for different criteria before starting their own stories.

Karen Nordstrom, Cheryl Wright and Steve Monas give their papers one final check before submitting it.

A group of students interested in learning different techniques of writing and a new English teacher, Miss Carr, formed the Creative Writing Club, dubbed "Authors Anonymous." The group hopes to publish a magazine at the end of the school year which will include their works as well as those submitted by other students.

Kim McPhail, Frank Buglio and Beverly Briscoe are charter members of A.A.

COMMUNICATION IS GOAL OF NEWSPAPER

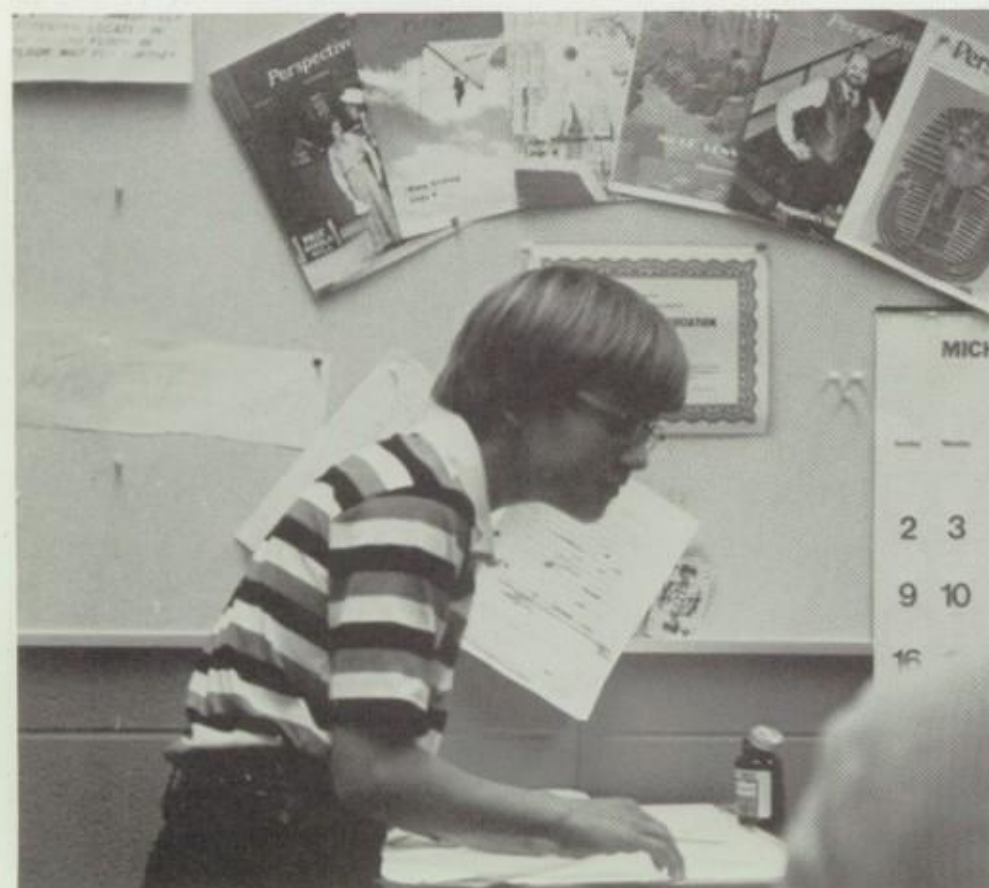

This year the Perspective was led by two co-editors, sophomore Alan Maass and junior Mark Petersen. The monthly publication in its magazine format conveys its thoughts and concern to the student body. A trend this year seemed to be increased emphasis to sports and other activities. Ms. Mirek is sponsor of the Perspective.

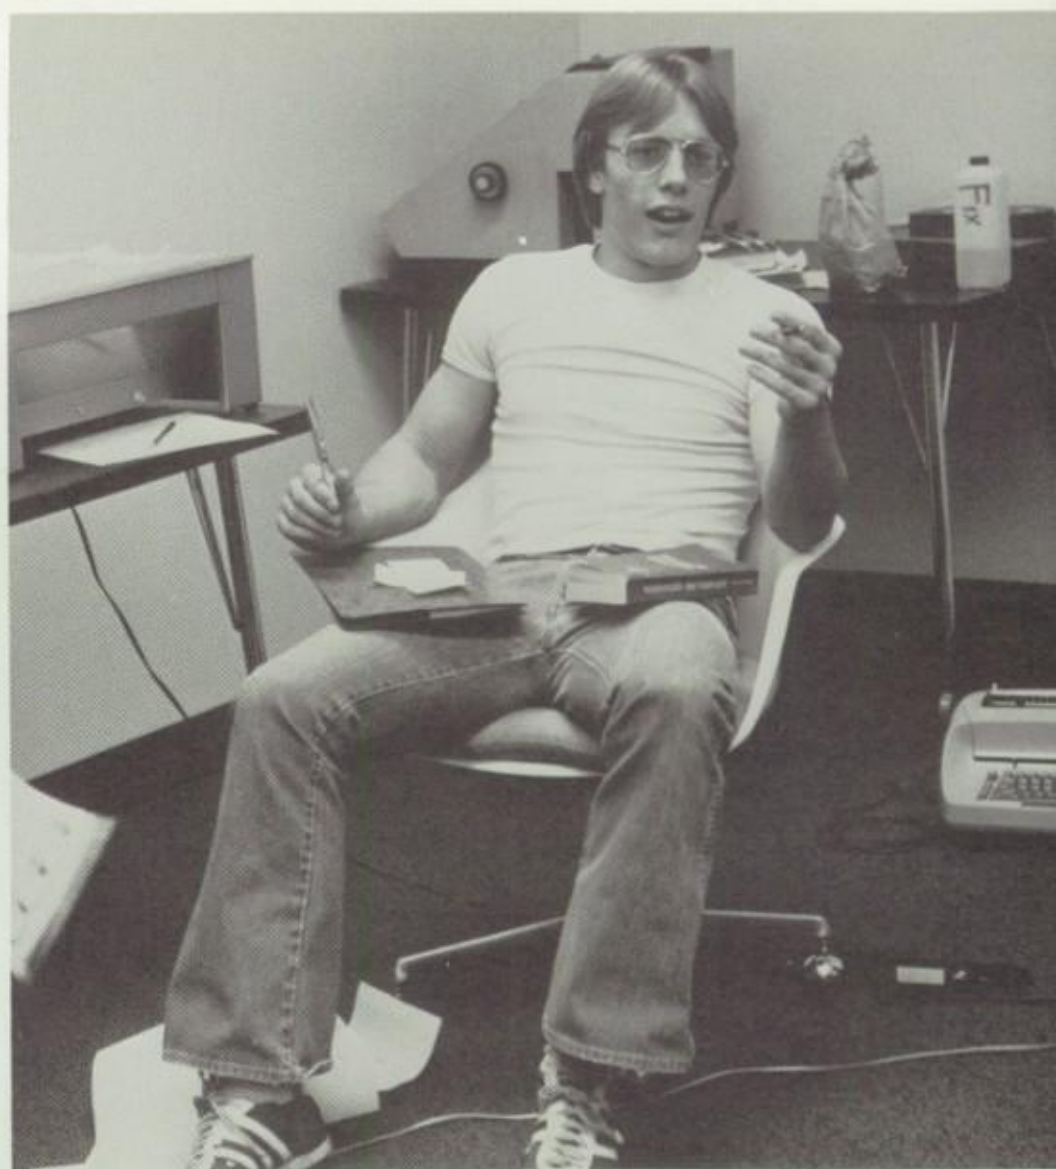

News editor Harry Hodson edits copy.

Ms. Mirek checks proofs with Tammy Quade.

Co-editor Alan Maass lays out Perspective on light table.

Co-editor Mark Petersen acted as a guiding spirit for the staff.

Artist Debbie Vancura checks final copy.

Doreen Deckard and Cindy Edlund read proofs.

The LP Mathletes work for individual as well as team scores in the competitions.

MATHLETES ENTER THE SCENE

The first year that LP participated in the North Suburban Math League was a year for learning. By and large the freshmen and sophomore participated with greater enthusiasm than their upper-division counterparts. Our freshman team won the Logic Tournament, led by Karen Muschen who had a perfect score. Dean Gronemeier and Karl Jensen also had perfect scores. Bob Rasmussen consistently did well in either the oral competition or on the senior level competition. The Mathletes are coached by math teachers Mr. Cieply and Ms. Semro.

Pete Maier is disappointed as the sophomore results are posted. Overall our sophs finished in 13th place.

Bob Rasmussen hopes that his "thinking cap" will come through for him as Karl Jensen works through some tough problems.

Junior Ann Maret exhibits the diligent work necessary in these meets.

Mr. Cieply and Ms. Semro try to see the results as they are posted.

OFFICE EDUCATION PROJECTS A PROFESSIONAL IMAGE

Office Education is open to juniors and seniors through the O.E. courses. Skills needed for jobs are emphasized in class such as bookkeeping, data processing, and general office skills.

CWT & DO PROGRAMS OFFER GUIDANCE

A record number of LP students enrolled in the Cooperative Work Training and Diversified Occupations programs this year. Combining actual work experiences with classwork keyed to the job, Mrs. Marceau and Mrs. Bryla prepare upper classmen for successful career experiences.

Greg Tomberg is a police cadet at the Itasca Police Station and is shown with Chief of Police Rossol.

Mike Murphy is in the toy department at K-Mart.

Lynn Deckard and her training sponsor, Rita Caparelli, from Montgomery Ward.

Dennis Monas is an apprentice mechanic at Wickstrom Chevrolet in Oselle.

Mario Cairo is employed at Springsoft as a warehouseman.

HABO STUDENTS GAIN EXPERIENCES

Dr. Matt Gryzlo is assisted by Pam Schnaedter.

Sue Schmidt is a nurses aide at the Arbor in Itasca.

Nursing, horticulture, veterinary sciences, and conservation are only a few of the areas found in HABO. HABO provides students with on the job training for those interested in health and applied biology.

Activity assistant Gayle Helfers works at the Arbor.

Jody Susman grooms a dog at Hollywood Kennels.

HERO PROGRAM INTRODUCES STUDENTS TO VARIED CAREERS

Christopher cooks at Tri-Village live-in.

For those upperclassmen who qualify, HERO offers individualized instruction. These areas include food service, child care, interior design, or saleable sewing skills, along with offering consumer education.

Sandy Perry is a waitress at Castlewood Restaurant.

As a produce clerk at Jewel, John Martinez gains valuable experience.

At Clothing World, Theresa Bowe learns about the clothing industry.

Kim Komala waitresses at Pizza Hut.

DE PROGRAM GROWS

Sharon Monfeli is hostess at Paoella Rustic Barn, shown with the owner, Mr. Paoella.

Bob Hawkins is aisle manager at Gorski's Food Fair in Roselle.

Distributive Education prepares the students for the future in a program focused on careers related to marketing and retail sales.

Happ's Garden Center employs Scott Zephries as a Salesman.

Tom Behnke combines class work with on-the-spot experience at Gorski's.

BIKE CLUB KEEPS ROLLING ALONG

Bike Club provides students with a chance to get outdoors into the fresh air on their bikes without dodging all the suburban traffic. With weekend trips throughout the area the bikers are able to combine exercise and competition. The club sponsored a spring trip again this year through western Kentucky.

Mary Bobik and Cathy Morris on their way to Lake Geneva.

Donna Hildebrandt takes a rest on her way to Lake Geneva.

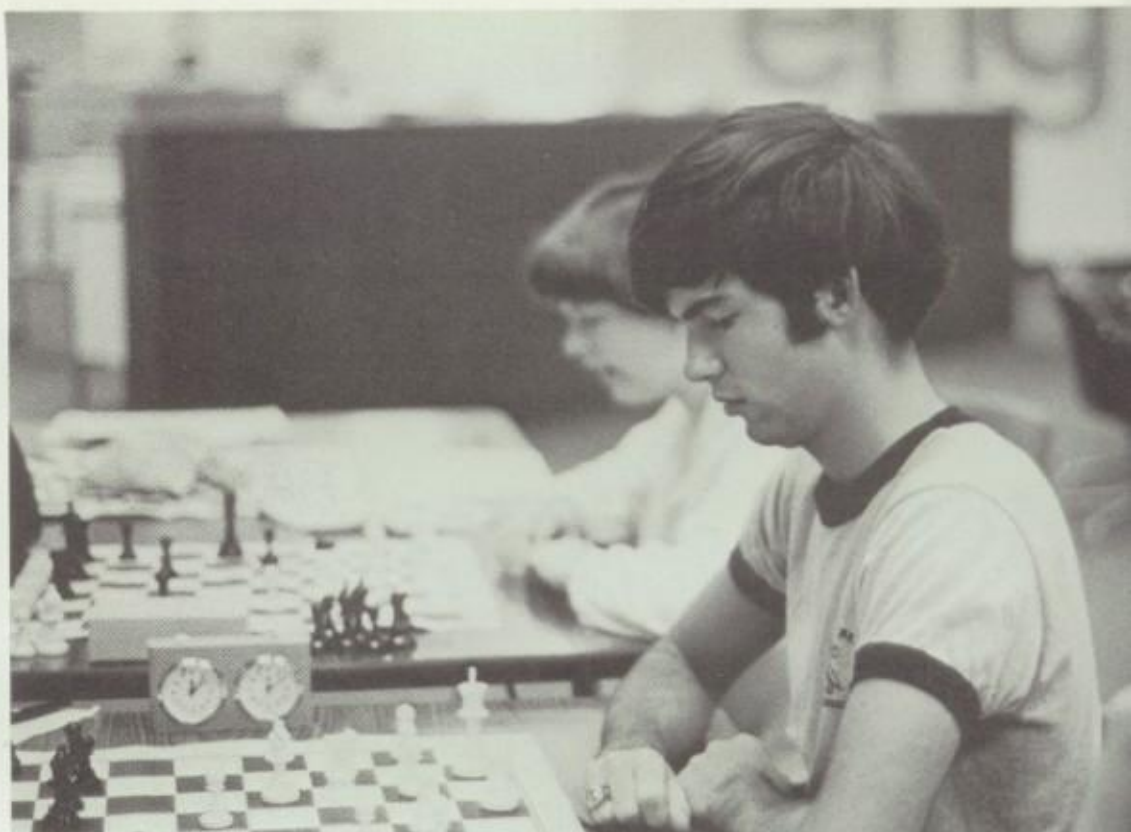

Breakfast was a welcome break on the way to Lake Geneva.

CHALLENGES ABOUND . . .

Chess club is open to any student with an interest in this age old game. Novices gain practical experiences from some of the more veteran players. The spirit of competition is informal to help insure a more relaxed but challenging atmosphere.

Bob Rachlow contemplates his next move.

Wendy Brunzie evaluates the attack of her opponent.

Bill Myer's expression reflects the concentration necessary in chess.

Kerry Mikkelsen, Eric Green and Wendy Brunzie make a formidable row of competitors.

STUDENTS & NATURE = BIOLOGY CLUB

This year the Biology Club, sponsored by Mr. Boone and Mr. Ferley, took a rainy yet fun-filled trip to Blackhawk Ridge, Wisconsin for a weekend. There, featured speakers and outdoor adventures awaited the campers.

at Lamke, Dennis Dugan and Tim Carroll decided they could take a foods course next year.

Over 70 Biology Club members attended the weekend camping trip.

Kathy Grounds, Christina Hasenauer, Sandy Colby and Cathie Purigroski wait patiently for the bus back home.

ricia Bobik, Leslie Vennero, Jackie Irmen, Judy Seaman and Debbie Scheck team up to get a warm meal.

The Varsity golfers ended the season with a 4 — 10 — 1 season but expect to be stronger next year since only two of this years' squad were seniors. The Frosh-Soph's great 13 — 2 record reflects their abilities which they will bring to the Varsity level next year. Both levels won first place honors in the Elmwood Park Invitational Tournament.

FOOTBALL SEASON GETS MIXED REVIEWS

It was some kind of year for the Lancers this time. As an independent school we met teams from all over the suburban area and traveled to Iowa. A 4 — 4 record doesn't reflect the close scores or intense manner of play.

JUNIOR VARSITY

And they're off!

CROSS COUNTRY UNBEATEN

The Lancer teams this year showed great promise for the future as the freshmen and sophomores combined for a perfect season at an 11 — 0 mark. Freshmen highlights were winning the sixteen team Luther North and Niles East Invitational Tournaments. The varsity team, led by Gerry Houston, was 1 — 7 — 1 and looking forward to seeing the frosh-soph move up for next year. The girls' team had a great 2 — 0 dual meet record.

The tip goes to LP courtesy of Sue Favia's great jump.

Despite a poor season record summary (2-11 for the Varsity and 1-14 for the JV squad) girls basketball showed some definite improvements in individual skills and team effort. The highlight of the season was the unexpected victory over Elgin Academy in the sub regional competition which allowed LP to advance in the tournament. The major factor going against the team was a lack of height along with a very young team of only one senior player. However, the experiences gained can only help the girls' basketball program in future years.

Sherri Buckholt goes for two.

Who says it's easier to sit on the bench? The intensity reflected on the faces of these team members refute that.

ARCHERY TEAM GOES TO STATE!

VOLLEYBALL SPIKES ITS WAY TO VICTORY

The season started on a low note with the varsity losing their first five out of six games. They pulled together though to win five of their last eight matches. Only 2 seniors will be graduating from this year's squad to boost hopes for next year. The Varsity ended the season with a 6 — 8 record and elected Senior Mary Moran as the most improved player of the year.

Weaknesses at several weight classes crippled the Varsity Wrestlers who posted only a 3-13-1 team record. Several individuals, however, had good showings; Gerry Houston won the LP Invitational while Bob VanBoven and Stewart McDonald gathered conference championships. The JV's missed first by only ten points in the Invitational while sophomores Dave Niedra and Scott Assman won championships in the Wauconda Tournament. A great freshman squad finished with a 12-3-1 season mark as conference championships were won by Joe Johnson, Dean Gronomeir, Jim Nieman, Pat Lambke and Earl Reichman.

NUMBERS DON'T TELL THE STORY

The Varsity Lancers fought their way to the Regional Championship game to cap a strong finish to the season. Seniors Tom Jakubosky and Joe Mikes were given "Honorable Mention" by the Chicago Daily News All-Area Team. Jakubosky sank an amazing 78-foot shot during the Elmwood Park game while Steve Bartsch made an 18-foot basket at the buzzer to win the first round of Regional play. The Sophomore "A" squad posted an impressive 17-7 season mark as the "B" team chalked up a 7-1 record. Freshman "A" team finished with an 8-6 tally while their "B" counterparts were 2-18.

This has been the best year for the Cheerleading Squad. Honors began at summer camp and haven't stopped since. At camp, each squad competes with two cheers for three consecutive nights. They may also bring special routines to try and qualify for nationals. The top five squads and the top five individuals qualify for nationals along with any worth special routines.

The Lancer squad received top honors for squad routines by receiving six first place awards. Dorie Heninger, Donna Wincek, and Robin Tyburski were given top honors which qualified them for nationals and both routines qualified.

Nationals were held at Lansing, Michigan where the squad placed third in the nation in cheers, first in pom-pom routines, first in skits, and first in spirit sign. Overall squad points made them the top squad in the nation. Individual honors went to Dorie Heninger with a thirtieth place and to Donna Wincek with an eleventh.

Part of the Varsity squad runs through one of their many humorous cheers at the Homecoming football game.

CHEERLEADERS TAKE TOP HONORS

Assistant Coach Ms. Manns, Manager Kelly McManama, Coach Mrs. Mikolajczyk

For the second consecutive year the Lancer cheerleaders took first place in the Illinois State Cheerleading Championships which were held at Bradley University in Peoria, Illinois on February 5. Thirty squads from around the state participated in the competition.

"It's great relaxation . . . if you like work."
— Perla Mazurski

Perla Mazurski started amateur skating ten years ago and belongs to two area skating clubs. She has competed in sixteen events in Canada, Wisconsin, St. Louis, Milwaukee, and throughout Illinois. She plans to begin duet skating this summer. Pictured is Perla as she appeared in a production of "Cinderella."

"Dancing is tough, but lots of fun."
— Vicki Peluchowski

VICKI PELUCHIWSKI is one of the few people lucky enough to have danced with Rudolph Nureyev. Vicki began dancing ballet and jazz seven years ago at age ten. She enrolled in dance classes to improve her poise and coordination. Vicki practices for four hours almost everyday. Vicki plans in the future to go on to school and continue dancing, perhaps attending a New York institution. Her goal: "dreams of dancing for the American Ballet Company."

"Dedication and endurance are the keys . . ."

— Mark Gorski

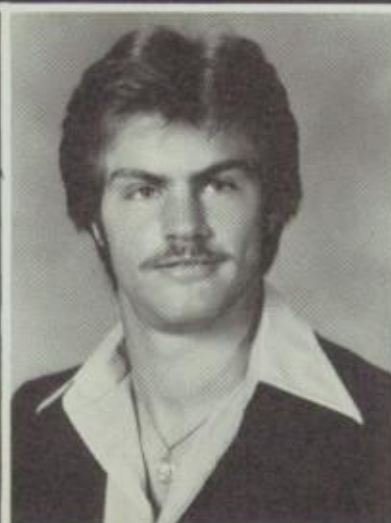

MARK GORSKI started bike racing four years ago through bicycle touring. Mark trains forty to sixty miles a day, six days a week from March through September. In the past year Mark has raced in a hundred races, and won over twenty. He has raced in such diverse places as Washington D.C., Seattle, Cincinnati, Germany and Belgium. Mark was named State Track and Road Champion for 1977 in Illinois. His future goals are to ride on the Junior World team in Europe, to be an Olympic Gold Medalist and eventually a professional bike racer.

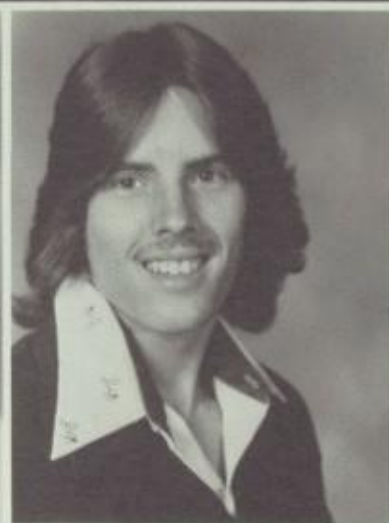

1977 National Merit Students

Carl Jensen, Linda Swiontek, Kris Kawka, Mary Gorski, Bob Rasmussen (not pictured) were named National Merit Commended Students because of their high achievement on the PSAT in the fall of 1976. These students scored at, or above, National qualifying levels, but not quite high enough to be named one of the 15,000 Semifinalists. Lake Park is proud of their accomplishment.

Inherent in all the games we play — in and out of school — are two factors: relating to others and the fact that there will be some winners and, ultimately, some losers.

Life is like a serious game of cards in that we are all dealt various hands to play. Have you ever been impressed how successful some people can be with what might be a lousy hand? If so, you've probably also seen some great hands be totally wasted by a person who could have cleaned up if only he had played more skillfully the cards he had been dealt.

This expertness at something as common as playing cards seems to be a quality that is useful for the greater game of life.

This past year was both a busy and eventful one. These times, good and bad, make up the memories of high school that we will carry with us forever. In creating the Lance, we hope to have captured the highlights of this year. To the Seniors, this book represents the end of high school — it's parties, classes, football games, and cold winter bus rides. It's time to look towards the future and not dwell in the past. To them we say, "Good Luck!"

This Lance would have never been created without the help of many people. In particular, we'd like to thank Cindy Tichy, editor of the 1975 Lance, who got us started. Also a special thanks to Mr. Dwain Thomas and Mr. Andrew Fowler whose guidance through the years has been greatly appreciated. To our staff, who at times wondered if we were playing with a full deck, especially Nancy Greening and Mari Ryan, upcoming editors, we thank them and wish them the best of luck to come.

In closing, we hope everyone enjoys the Lance as much as we have enjoyed putting it together.
